OLD AIR SERVICE CONTROVERSY STILL SMOULDERS UNDER SURFACE

OFFICERS FORCED TO SELL INTERESTS IN OFFICIAL JOURNAL

New Organization Will
Publish Magazine It
Is Learned

Washington, April 25.—The air service controversy, which had congress excited some weeks ago, and which finally resulted in the demotion of Brig. Gen. William Mitchell, is not yet ended.

The embers of controversy still smoulder, under the surface. Today it was learned that flying officers of both army and navy services who have been associated with the official air service journal, have been forced by their respective departments to sell their stock in the corporation publishing it, and sever all connection with it.

The action was taken, according to flying officers who would not allow their names to be used because of fear of disciplinary action, after the magazine, known as the United States air force magazine, had been muzzled during the recent upheaval. The magazine has been published by the army and navy air service association, composed of flying officers in both the army and navy, of which Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the air service is president.

It is asserted infantry, cavalry, artillery, quartermaster and other service branches, similar in character to the air service, organization, publish similar magazines. No action has been taken with regard to them.

During the air service controversy, it is alleged, the magazine was prohibited from publishing any articles or editorials which had any bearing on the subject in any manner whatever. Closely following the congressional investigation into the air service, Secretary of War Weeks is reported to have written letter to General Patrick demanding that all army officers withdraw from the magazine. General Patrick immediately called a meeting which dissolved the publishing corporation and ended the magazine.

Secretary of the Navy Wilbur is reported to have joined in the action by demanding that all navy officers also withdraw.

Publication of the magazine is to be continued, however, by the United States air force association, as independent organization of flyers and former flyers headed by Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, the famous ace, which was formed during the United States Air force controversy. The new organization is a frank champion of Brig. Gen. Mitchell and his policies.

General Mitchell, who will be demoted to Colonel on Monday when he retires as assistant chief of air service, will be a frequent contributor to the magazine it is stated, and has promised that "there will be no more muzzling."

DONAHEY THIRD TERM BOOM IS LAUNCHED

Dover, O., April 25—Describing Governor Donahey as "the real champion" of the "dirt" farmer and of the toiling masses, fighting virtually alone as their champion in the state house against a hostile legislature, C. V. Truax, state director of agriculture, in a speech, launched a boom for a third gubernatorial term for his chief and predicted Donahey's election as president in 1928.

"I don't know what Governor Donahey thinks about it, but the people of Ohio should draft him for a third term and then nothing in the world can keep him from the presidency in 1928," asserted Truax, addressing the Tuscarawas County Jefferson Club at New Philadelphia, the governor's home town, Friday night.

HAWAII CIRCLED IN MOCK WARFARE

Honolulu, April 25—The attacking blue fleet was believed to have completely surrounded the Hawaiian group of islands and actual contact between the "blue" and "black" forces of the U. S. fleet setting in motion the greatest naval maneuvers in America's history, was expected during the day.

Airplanes of the "black" forces are keeping constant vigil sweeping above the sea for miles around the islands.

"Most Beautiful Girl at Newcomb"

MISS ROSE ALMEE ROY

A charming manner and dignified poise are attributes which won for Miss Rose Almee Roy, senior in music at Newcomb College, New Orleans, the title of "Most Beautiful Girl in Newcomb," the women's department of Tulane University. It was a victory for long tresses over bobbed hair.

KING AND QUEEN BACK
London, April 25—King George and Queen Mary of England, arrived this afternoon from Paris after a vacation in the Riviera and a cruise in the Mediterranean. Crowds cheered their arrival.

Scotland Yard took special precautions against the possibility of communists in the crowds.

MURDER OR SUICIDE THEORIES PROBED WHEN BODY FOUND

Wealthy Farmer And Businessman Was Shot Through The Heart

Kenton, O., April 25—Theories of murder and suicide were advanced today when the body of T. C. G. McGuffey, wealthy farmer and businessman, was discovered near his home, at McGuffey, west of here.

McGuffey was shot through the heart. His own gun was lying across his body.

Coroner Hanson and Prosecutor, Lease are investigating.

McGuffey heard a noise in the barn near his home during the night, and, taking his gun, went to investigate. Persons who noted the position in which his gun rested on his body, believed McGuffey was probably shot by marauders.

FLEET WILL SEARCH FOR LOST SAILORS

Cleveland, O., April 25—A fishing fleet will leave today from Port Stanley Ontario on a search for the bodies of the three men believed drowned when the Ada Maybelle a rum runner, went down early this week after a severe squall on Lake Erie. The wooden storm top of the launch was picked up by a fishing boat near Port Stanley.

The body of George Knaggs, one of the three Canadians on the launch, with a Cleveland bootlegger was found Wednesday.

FOURTEEN MINERS RESCUED SHORTLY BEFORE AIR BREAKS

Entrapped Men Are Brought To Surface Just Before Another Cave-in

Burke, Ind., April 25—The fourteen miners rescued late yesterday from the 2,000 foot level of the Hecla Mining Company mine, escaped death by only a few seconds, investigation by mine inspectors revealed today.

Just after the last of the entombed men were brought to the surface, there was a cave-in, and a break in the air line, meaning certain death in the mine.

All of the miners were rescued uninjured after 24 hours of furious fighting against fire and gas.

DAYLIGHT SAVING AFFECTS NEW YORK

New York, April 25—Daylight saving time will go into effect in New York City and in many other eastern cities at 2 o'clock tomorrow morning. At that hour all local clocks will be set ahead one hour.

Railroads will continue to operate as in the past, on eastern standard time. Local commuters schedules will be changed to conform with daylight saving time.

Business, and the stocks exchanges have made arrangements to change the situation that will result from the pushing forward of the hands of the clock.

Daylight saving time will continue until the last Sunday in September.

Attracted by the screams of her sixteen-month-old son, Russell, whom she had left in the house while she went to the barn to milk, Tuesday evening, Mrs. Estel Simmons, east of Wilmington, rushed to the house to find the kitchen filled with smoke and her child dancing on top of the hot kitchen range.

The baby's limbs were burned and blistered to the knees and his heavy soles were curling to a crisp. It is believed the baby climbed from a chair to the stove in the short absence of his mother. The burns are not thought serious.

DON'T FORGET

Xenians hitting the hay Saturday night, no matter what hour, will do so with the not overly comforting thought that they will have exactly one hour less to sleep.

Daylight saving time, will be effective Sunday morning at 2 o'clock, by the terms of a city ordinance providing that clocks be shoved ahead one hour.

Xenia will operate on daylight saving time, which is one hour faster than Central Standard time, until September 27, when time pieces will again be turned back one hour.

The Pennsylvania Railroad will continue to operate on Central Standard time, in accordance with orders from the Interstate Commerce Commission, but with slightly revised train schedules.

The Dayton, Springfield and Xenia Southern Railway Company traction lines will shift to the fast time.

BULGARIAN LIBRARY AND THEATRE BURNED DOWN BY COMMUNISTS

Arrest Brother of General For Harboring One Conspirator

London, April 25—Communists have burned down the magnificent library and theater at Pleven, Bulgaria and a brother of General Georgieff has been arrested at Sofia for harboring Minkoff, reputed arch conspirator.

These were the developments today in the Bulgarian situation today to dispatches received in London.

It was during the funeral of General Georgieff that 160 persons were killed by a bomb explosion. Minkoff was shot to death by police when discovered in hiding.

Further American caches of insurgents have been uncovered in Sofia, Bragga, and Varna, according to other dispatches.

The prosecutor at Sofia was said to have demanded a death penalty for the sexton of the church where the explosion occurred.

Charges of torture and massacre in Bulgaria were printed in London newspapers in statements by British parliament members Wedgwood and Malone. The London Times correspondent in a dispatch from Sofia as stated that the Wedgwood and Malone charges were unfounded.

Only five hundred persons are under arrest in Sofia, the Times said it had learned from official sources.

CHARGE MANAGER OF ATHLETES RAISED EXPENSE ACCOUNT

Des Moines, Ia., April 25—An investigation dealing with an exchange of scribbled notes in which he claims Hugo Quist, representative of Willie Ritola and Paavo Nurmi, raised the expense ante for their appearance at the Drake relay carnival yesterday and today from $50 to $500, were to be submitted today to the National Registration Committee of the A. A. U. at New York, if its chairman, Frederick W. Rubien, called for such evidence to carry out his probe of the charges attributed to Kenneth L. Wilson, Drake University athletic director.

The notes, Wilson declared, are a result of his conversation held with Quist under the Grant Park grandstand, Chicago, during the Loyola University relay meet, sometime ago. As they discussed the proposition, Wilson said, he made notes of his offers on a slip of paper which he handed to Quist. Four times, he boosted his figures until finally he had offered $250 expense money.

"Double it and it will be all right," he asserted. Quist told him, but he refused to, believing the demand exorbitant.

Daylight saving time will continue until the last Sunday in September.

Attracted by the screams of her sixteen-month-old son, Russell, whom she had left in the house while she went to the barn to milk, Tuesday evening, Mrs. Estel Simmons, east of Wilmington, rushed to the house to find the kitchen filled with smoke and her child dancing on top of the hot kitchen range.

SENATOR CHARGED WITH MISUSING HIS OFFICE VINDICATED

Will Ask Early Trial of Conspiracy Case In Washington

Great Falls, Mont., April 24—Freed of charges of misusing his high office to obtain favors for a client before federal departments, Senator Burton K. Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, today demanded an early trial in Washington on his second indictment alleging conspiracy to acquire fraudulently government oil and gas lands.

Wheeler was indicted recently with Edwin S. Booth, formerly solicitor of the interior and Gordon Campbell, Montana oil operator.

"I want an early trial in Washington," Wheeler declared today in a formal statement, "in order that my activities in the senate may not be further hampered by the Harry Daugherty gang which apparently still has a commanding voice in the department of justice."

After a fiercely fought eight day trial Wheeler was acquitted here of charges that he illegally received a retainer from Campbell to handle oil permits and land litigation before the interior department. The jury took only one ballot.

"The vindication by a Montana jury was no surprise to me as I had fully expected it from the start," said Wheeler. "This acquittal proves my charge to the senate a year ago of a 'frameup' by the department of justice. I charge again that this trial was persecution, as a retaliation for the senator's exposure of rotteness in the department under the Daugherty administration. This was proved by the Borah committee that investigated my indictment and exonerated me, and now again by a clearcut, decisive verdict in a court of justice."

Washington, April 25—The acquittal of Senator Burton K. Wheeler, by a Montana jury "in no way lessens" the government's intention of proceeding with the Senator's trial in Washington on a second indictment charging him with being a co-conspirator in a scheme to defraud the government out of valuable mineral lands, it was announced at the department of justice today.

Attorney General Sargent and other officials of the department were represented as "not being greatly surprised" by the outcome of the Montana case as there admittedly were serious defects in the government's case against the Montana senator.

Washington, April 25—Funeral services for George A. Sanderson, secretary of the senate for six years, will be held here Monday, with interment in Arlington National Cemetery.

Sanderson was 75 years old. He died from a heart attack coupled with indigestion. He was born in Hamilton, Ohio.

His widow, who was Ella Dinsmore Phillips, of Chicago, and one son, S. Phillip Sanderson of Baltimore, survived. He retired from business in Chicago in 1919 to become secretary of the senate.

HOUSE DESTROYED

Defiance, April 25—Awakened by smoke, Mrs. J. T. Jackman succeeded in arousing her husband and got their six children out of their home as the ceiling caved in while flames destroyed their $4,500 farm home located south of Defiance. The blaze started from a defective chimney. Insurance totaled $1,500 on house and contents.

Attracted by the screams of her sixteen-month-old son, Russell, whom she had left in the house while she went to the barn to milk, Tuesday evening, Mrs. Estel Simmons, east of Wilmington, rushed to the house to find the kitchen filled with smoke and her child dancing on top of the hot kitchen range.

GRAPPLERS SET FOR SESSION SATURDAY NIGHT FOR EAGLES

Lee Umbles vs. Sailor Stanley. Gene Wead vs. Strangler Dixon. Speedy Crawford vs. Young Tex. Three bouts make up the wrestling program booked for Saturday night at Eagles' Hall, starting at 8:30 o'clock.

In the main event Lee Umbles, Cuban welterweight champion, will meet Sailor Jack Stanley, former welterweight champ of the Pacific Fleet. Both are championship contenders and fans will no doubt see some fast grappling. Umbles has shown here before when he beat Ralph Fulton in a match that was replete with thrills.

He was outweighed by thirty pounds but his speed and cleverness helped him to win. One of his pet grips is a hammerlock and Stanley will want to be on the lookout for this. It will take a real exhibition of mat strategy to subdue the Cuban. Stanley says he has trained hard for the encounter and is sure he can down Umbles. The match will go two out of three falls.

In the semi-final Gene Wead of this city will meet Strangler Dixon of Columbus in a match, one fall to a finish. This will be Wead's second out of town opponent and he intends to beat him. In his first match he met Jim Miller of Akron and lost but the Akronite had much more experience and was lots heavier and stronger than the local flash. Wead has been working out every night at Eagles' Hall with Umbles and Crawford so he is in fine shape and expects to score a win over the Columbus man.

Speedy Crawford of this city and Young Tex of Columbus will open the show with a one fall match. Young Tex has been going good around Columbus and it will take a good grappler to pin his shoulders to the mat. Crawford's last appearance at the Eagles was when he forced Kid Black of Springfield to give up after sixteen minutes of tussling. Crawford has been under the tutelage of Lee Umbles and has been taught lots of inside points about the mat game. As a whole the card looks up to be a good one and one worth seeing. The admission will be 75 cents.

ADDRESSES PUPILS ON WASHINGTON, D. C.

Mrs. J. P. White, Cedarville, gave an illustrated lecture in the chapel to the students of Cedarville College, Thursday morning, on the buildings of Washington, D. C.

Mrs. White said at the beginning of her lecture that the American was much like the Mohammedan in his desire to some time journey to Mecca, the American to the capitol, Washington. She described interesting Washington buildings and her talk was well received.

Junior Cross Word Puzzle

HOW TO SOLVE PUZZLE

The words start in the numbered squares and run either across or down. Only one letter is placed in each white square. If the proper words are found each combination of letters in the white squares will form the words. The key to the puzzle—the first word—is given in the drawing. Below are keys to the other words.

Running Across
Word 4. Hither. Opposite of there.
Word 5. Opposite of wild.
Word 7. Used in cleaning.
Word 8. Shelter used by Boy Scouts on camping trips.
Running Down
Word 1. Not dry.
Word 2. To rub out.
Word 3. A fruit grown in California.
Word 6. What you do when you're hungry.

WILL TOUR WORLD IN AN OPEN VESSEL TO TEST "DRY TACK"

Plymouth, Eng., April 25.—A daring attempt to encompass the world in a 39 foot open motor lifeboat is to be made by Captain George G. Hitchens, of the coastguard station at Penzance, near Penzance, and three companions who expect to start about the first of May.

The voyage, which will commence and end at Westminster Bridge, London, is expected to occupy about two and a half year; and Captain Hitchens and his companions are confident that they will come through the 38,000 miles journey successfully.

Primarily the voyage is being undertaken to try to discover the minimum amount of provisions which a lifeboat should carry in case of shipwreck, and throughout the whole voyage Hitchens and his companions will subsist on "dry tack" which is the nautical expression for hard biscuits, tinned foods, meat and vegetable extracts, chocolate, condensed milk and water.

OLD LIFEBOAT
The "Elizabeth and Blanche" the lifeboat on which the voyage will be undertaken, has been thirty years service. Thirty-nine feet long, she has a beam of nine feet six inches and will be fitted with a fifteen horsepower, internal combustion engine.

She will have only the ordinary equipment of navigating instruments usually supplied to a ship's boat but a special compass, which is believed to be impervious to weather conditions, will be carried.

A month is to be allowed for the crossing of the Atlantic Ocean to the St. Lawrence River, and calls will be made at Quebec, Montreal, and Ottawa on the way to Port Arthur, the extreme western point of Lake Superior. Sailing down Lake Michigan, the voyagers will pass through the States of Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee by canal and river to the Mississippi. They will proceed to St. Louis from New Orleans, crossing to the Straits of Florida and thence east to the Bahamas and onward to Jamaica and the Panama Canal.

CROSS PACIFIC
On the way across the Pacific to New Zealand a visit will be made to the remote Pitcairn Island. From New Zealand the party will proceed to Australian ports, and from Tasmania they will embark on the longest journey—4,600 miles to Durban, South Africa.

After visiting South African ports, calls will be made at the Cape Verde Islands, Ascension Island, St. Helena, and on to Buenos Aires, with an intermediate call at the lonely island of Tristan da Cunha, which receives a mail once every five years.

The journey back to England will be made via Rio de Janeiro, Santos, Bahia, and Peranambuco.

The men are confident that they will feel no ill effects from the constant rations of "dry tack."

TWIN VILLAGES MAY ADOPT FAST TIME

Although no definite action has been taken by either the village council or Osborn or Fairfield, it is believed these two villages will start to operate on daylight saving time Sunday. Clocks will be set ahead one hour.

With Wilbur Wright Field, the two big cement plants and the I. C. E. traction line working on the new time after Sunday, business men of the villages find that a uniform time standard will avoid confusion, it is said.

LOCAL AUTHOR IS CONTRIBUTOR TO BOOK

Miss Helen Santmyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Santmyer, this city, who is now studying at Oxford University, England, is one of the Ohio contributors to the "Semi-Centennial Book of Wellesley Verse" which is being published this month for the Alumnae Association by the Oxford University Press.

Miss Santmyer taught at Wellesley following her graduation and is also a former instructor at Central High School, this city. She has written a number of interesting poems.

Miss Josephine Simrall, dean of women at the University of Cincinnati contributes a poem originally published on the Buffalo Wellesley Club calendar to the Wellesley publication. Miss Eloise Robinson Muchmore, now in Fort Worth, Texas, but formerly of Cincinnati, is also a contributor. Mrs. Maurice R. Ridley, formerly of Cleveland, is now at Oxford, England, and is first American woman to receive the degree of B. Litt., which was awarded to her in 1922. Katharine Haynes Gatch, formerly of Milford, O., now an instructor of English at Vassar, is another contributor.

Edited by Dr. Martha Hale Shackson of the Wellesley department of English Literature, the volume forms a record of Wellesley poetry during the first fifty years of the college. It is found such well known poets as Katherine Lee Bates, Josephine Preston Peabody, Sophie Jewett, Florence Wilkinson Evans, Jeanette Marks, Bernice Van Slyke and Bernice Leslie Kenyon.

Wellesley's first class, 1879, is represented by poems by Mary Russell Bartlett who, as an undergraduate was frequently called upon by Mr. Duran to write verses on special occasions. Wellesley's present undergraduate poets are also represented, for the collection contains verses by a member of the present Senior class. More than one hundred authors are represented, and there are two hundred poems in the book.

ANNIVERSARY OF LODGE CELEBRATED

The seventh anniversary of the organization of the Pythian Sisters was celebrated by members of the order and their families, numbering sixty-five, at a covered dish dinner and program at the Castle Hall, Friday evening.

The tables were arranged in the form of a square and were decked with bowls of violets and valley lilies. Candles in crystal holders alternated with the bouquets as a center decoration.

After the menu of delicious dishes, a program of talks and music was given. Mr. B. F. Thomas, president of the Greene County Past Chancellors Association was the first on the program. Short talks were also given by A. J. Wilson, Mr. Jacob Kany, Mr. C. W. Whitmer, Mrs. Emma Zell, and Mr. J. J. Stout.

Miss Winifred Cross gave a violin solo and the other musical numbers included a piano solo by Miss Juanita Buttz, a piano solo by Ivald Yeager and an interpretative dance by Miss Rosella Harner and a reading by Miss Evelyn Osman. The program was in charge of Mrs. B. F. Thomas.

ATTEND DISTRICT LIBRARY MEETING

Miss Etta G. McElwain, librarian of the Greene County Public Library and Miss Jean B. Elwell, Mrs. Karl R. Babb, Mrs. H. H. Eavey, Miss Bertha Treben and Miss Maud Ebright members of the library board, attended the southwest district meeting of the Ohio Library Association, in Springfield, Friday.

The meeting was held in the Warder Public library, with Miss Alice Burrows hostess at the affair and Miss Grace Prince of Wittenberg College secretary. Miss Helen M. Tattershall, Dayton, was chairman.

The morning session opened at 10 o'clock, with greetings from the Ohio Library Association by Miss Anna M. Tarr, president. Talks on library divisions were given by several authorities.

The convention divided into round-table groups at the afternoon program and discussed various subjects.

MARRIAGE PERFORMED AT PARSONAGE SATURDAY

Miss Catherine Counts, Sidney, O., and Mr. Joseph Broderick, Dayton, were married at the parsonage of Trinity M. E. Church, the Rev. V. F. Brown officiating, Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

There were no attendants for the service. The bride wore a gown of tan crepe with hat and footware to correspond. The single ring ceremony was used.

Mr. and Mrs. Broderick will reside in Dayton, where Mr. Broderick is employed at the Delco Company.

RECENT MARRIAGE BEING ANNOUNCED

Mrs. Florence Malone and Mr. J. C. Clemmer, both of Xenia, are announcing their marriage which was performed Thursday evening, April 16, at the parsonage of St. Brigid Church, the Rev. David Powers, officiating.

The ceremony was quietly solemnized and was witnessed by the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Fisher and her daughter, Miss Adeline Malone.

The bride wore a becoming ensemble of blue with harmonizing accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Clemmer will reside on the Clemmer farm, three miles west of Xenia.

ENTERTAINS "500" CLUB

Miss Mabel McCoy and Miss Dorothy Taylor entertained the members of their card club at the home of Miss McCoy on Chestnut Street, Friday evening. Three tables of "500" were in play during the evening. Winners of score prizes were Mrs. L. G. McCoy, Miss Margaret Regan, Mr. Perry Swindler and Mr. Herman Bone.

A dainty color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the appointments and in the delicious refreshment course served by the hostesses at a late hour.

HIGH SCHOOL PARTY IS WELL ATTENDED

Two hundred persons including pupils, faculty, officials and patrons of Central High School, attended the theater party and social at the school Friday evening, sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association of the high school.

A movie, "The Small-Town Guy" was shown early in the evening and the comedy was highly enjoyed. The guests were later served ice cream and cake in the cafeteria. The tables were centered with bouquets of Spring flowers.

PENNSYLVANIA AID SOCIETY

RESERVES IN PINK FOR TUSSLE SUNDAY WITH COLLEGIANS

The Reserves will go after their second win of the season Sunday afternoon at Washington Park when they meet the speedy Collegian nine of Medway. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock with Ferguson in charge.

The Medway team has played but one game to date that being with the Springfield Athletics last Sunday, but with Haddix, fast ball pitcher, on the mound they expect to beat the locals. The Collegians have a slugging nine and are men with Groth, Wiser, and Greene, three good clouters who may cause the locals no end of trouble.

The Reserves had two light work-outs this week and are in excellent shape for Sunday's conflict. Fans have been kind of sweet on "Jap" Ritter, who at present is leading the team at bat with a .400 average. Fans are wondering how he will hit against Haddix. Cyphers, pitcher, is also hitting the horseshoe around the .333 mark. Willie McDonnell will no doubt start the game for the locals as he has pitched against the Collegians before and beat them.

Xenia Police Department announces that it has obtained orders from B. and O. railroad officials to keep everyone off the railroad. Any one found trespassing will be arrested they say. Following is the probable lineup of the teams:

Reserves—E. Leahay 3b; Fuller cf; Ritter ss; Randall 3b; F. Leahay rf; Toland lf; Cain 1b; Durnbaugh c; McDonnell or Cyphers p.

Medway—Greene ss; Maxton 3b; Groth cf; E. Greene 1b; Schaner 2b; Wiser, rf; Teach lf; H. Greene c; Haddix p.

BATH TOSERS LOSE TO STEELE HIGH OF DAYTON 21-0 FRIDAY

After practicing through the early season with but one end in view, that of beating or at least making a fine showing against Steele High School, of Dayton, Bath lost to Steele at Osborne Friday afternoon in a one-sided baseball game, 21 to 0.

Dodson pitched air tight ball for Steele letting the Bath sluggers down with but two hits and two less runs, and striking out twelve men while his mates unearthed twenty safe bunts and one more run.

Steele used many substitutes during the game, all of whom showed up well in every department of play. The game was called in the seventh inning because of darkness.

Steele made the game look like a track meet, by running wild on the bases, and keeping a swarm of men on the paths practically every inning who made fifteen clean steals.

PROTECTING THE EMPLOYEE

WHILE chanting the glories of Soviet Russia, the advocates of the rule of the proletariat might note that no country in the world does so much for the protection of its workers in industry as does America. The industrial conference board finds that sixteen percent more money per employee is spent for medical supervision than four years ago. Some 501 plants questioned by the board employ 265 full time physicians, 733 physicians on call; 845 nurses and 121 visiting nurses.

These figures do not wholly illuminate until the results are shown; not so much in the discovery of disease or defects but in the proper placement of employees who, in the absence of competent medical advice might be receiving much smaller wages or not working at all. Many complaints are quickly corrected, thus insuring 100 percent efficiency on the part of the workers. These include, for example, defective teeth and tonsils, impaired vision and curable skin diseases. Where the ailment is more threatening, as in arrested tuberculosis, varicose veins, flat feet, high blood pressure, heart and kidney diseases, the employee if not cured is given the work he can do best without further injury to himself, thus protecting him from progressive deterioration while at the same time using him at maximum capacity in the job assigned. Indeed, the board suggests that in many instances the employee's well being is better protected in an up-to-date industrial plant than it would be at home or wherever he may spend his leisure time. The occasional sneer of the worker at "welfare work" would appear to be misplaced.

America is the outstanding nation of the world in its opportunities for the worker; educational and living conditions and health promotion.

HONOR PERRY'S MEMORY

MORE than ten thousand persons turned out recently at Port-of-Spain in Trinidad to attend the dedication exercises of the memorial gate in honor of Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry, one of America's brilliant naval leaders and hero of the memorable battle of Lake Erie in 1813. The illustrious admiral died at Port-of-Spain on an American war ship in 1819 and was taken ashore for burial. The gateway dedicated stands at the entrance of the cemetery in which the body was buried until it was removed to the United States in 1826 and laid in its final resting place at Newport, R. I. The gateway is appropriately made of iron and on the supporting pillars are two bronze tablets. On one of the tablets are inscribed the famous last words of Commodore Perry:

"Few people have greater inducements to make them wish to live than I; but I am perfectly ready to go if it pleases the Almighty to take me; the debt of nature must be paid."

The other tablet bears the facts of Perry's death and burial and the circumstances of the presentation of the gate by Americans living in Trinidad. Secretary of the Navy Wilbur sent the U. S. Cruiser Memphis to take part in the exercises and the golden key to the gate was presented to the mayor of the city by Captain Lackey of the Memphis.

The tribute to Commodore Perry is a fitting one as Perry is one of the outstanding heroes of American naval history and the story of his life and accomplishments has served as an inspiration to many an American youth.

JUST FOLKS

Edgar A. Guest

THE TEST

This is the test of a man,
Does he stand to the blow?
Is he willing to go
Just as far as he can?

For the right, and not break
When his honor's at stake?

He who has plenty can pay
With a smile what he owes,
But the true splendor glows
In the spirit of him who will say:
"No dollar is mine that I get While I stand 'neath a debt."

A pledged word is easy to keep
When there's little to lose,
But when you must stand up and choose Between hardships and suffering deep
And the soft way dishonor would take,
It is then that your soul is at stake.

The test of the man is the blow,
The storm and the tempest and strife,
Not the soft, sunny days of his life,
But the length he's willing to go,
And the hardships he'll bear and go through
Because it's the right thing to do.

HENRY A. BORDEN IS CALLED BY DEATH

Henry A. Borden, 70, passed away at his home, 202 Hill Street, Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock. He has been ailing for two years, suffering two strokes of paralysis, the last occurring two months ago. He was able to be up and about his home Thursday but his condition became suddenly worse Friday.

Mr. Borden was born in Xenia and reached his seventieth birthday April 14, last. His marriage to Miss Benella Hurst took place fifty years ago February 14. He was employed as a plumber and steam fitter for John A. North for forty years and gave up his work on account of failing health three years ago.

He is survived by his widow and nine children: Mrs. Cue Winn, Canton, O., Mrs. John Buch, Mrs. Charles Cunningham, Raymond, Albert Allen Fred and George of Xenia and Mrs. Charles Tate of Richmond, Ind. Fourteen grandchildren and five great-grandchildren also survive. Mr. Borden was a member of the First M. E. Church.

Funeral services will be held at the home Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with interment in Woodland Cemetery.

ON DARING

There is always some one walking ahead looking over the ground and planning something unusual and far reaching.

Call such a one pioneer-leader man of vision—the name doesn't matter. The marvelous thing is that such a man is able to get others great masses, to follow him and do what he sees.

It is easy to do a difficult task so long as it is carefully planned out in the first place.

Most of us are good dreamers. But the daring man with the daring mind who goes ahead and writes his thoughts into realities, is really the great man in human life.

No matter where you look, you will see the result of some man's daring faith.

If you want to do an unusual thing, do something that you have never done before—something that you would like to do but have no idea how you can do it.

Daring men are those who take responsibility and then ride right along with it, without a word of complaint.

It's a good thing to decide to do something that seems far beyond your ability or power to achieve.

Interest keeps us live and full of desire and clothes our incentive as a mother might warm her baby with soft garments. Incentive is impossible without interest. And interest is what keeps us strong and unafraid.

Dare! You will surprise yourself. After all, this is what raises one man or woman above another—daring into new fields.

MADE A NEW WOMAN OF HER

That Is What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did for Mrs. Jenkins

Middleport, Ohio.—"I am going through the Change of Life and I am taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for the troubles that come at that time. I got so run-down I could scarcely do my work and I keep a boarding house and have a family of eight to take care of. A friend told me about the Vegetable Compound and it has made a new woman of me. I keep it in the house all the time now and won't be without it. My weight got down to 99 pounds and now it is 132½ pounds. I give the Vegetable Compound the praise and hope that women will realize the good in it."—Mrs. MYRA JENKINS, 533 North Front Street, Middleport, Ohio.

Over 200,000 women have so far replied to this question, "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

"Yes," and because the Vegetable Compound has been helping other women it should help you. For sale by druggists everywhere.

FIFTY THOUSAND BOYS WILL ATTEND U. S. SUMMER CAMPS

New York, April 25.—What the well-educated young man will wear this summer:

Woolen olive drab shirt. Cotton or seersucker olive drab riding breeches. Wrapped woolen leggings. High tan laceless shoes. Wide-brimmed olive drab hat, peaked.

Perhaps not every young man in the United States will be so clothed during the months of July and August, but at least 50,000 youths between the ages of seventeen and thirty-one years will wear just that uniform for the thirty days while attending the forty-two Citizens' Military Training Camps to be held again this year under the auspices of the War Department.

Figures made public in Washington today showed that 25 per cent of more than 13,000 youths have already enrolled for the free health and citizenship encampments, more than double the number of enrolments at this time last year.

The enrollment campaign is under the direction of the Citizen's Military Training Camps officers at the Headquarters of the nine Corps Areas into which the nation is divided by the War Department for tactical and administrative purposes. In the Sixth Corps Area, including the States of Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin, already one-half of the quota of 5,600 has been obtained: 38 per cent have enrolled in the Fifth Corps Area comprising Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, and West Virginia, and 36 per cent in the Fourth Corps Area. Including all of the Southeastern States, less Virginia, EXPENSES PAID.

What President Coolidge himself and leaders in Congress and in civilian life consider one of the greatest movements for real Democracy ever instituted in America will get underway in many camps early in July, while other camps open Aug. 1, Attica, New York, will have two camps one in July and one in August.

The necessary expenses of the boy are paid in full by the Government from the time he leaves his home, with railroad fare to and from camp, clothing, equipment, food, lodging, bedding and entertainment.

According to reports made available at the War Department recently, enrollment for the 1925 camps has been made comparatively easy by a new factor. Already ninety-five of the biggest industries in the nation have guaranteed to send at least 2 per cent of their employees to the camps for thirty days on full pay, as rewards for faithful performance of their duties during the year.

SEND BOYS

Among them are the following American Telephone and Telegraph Company, American Railway Express Company, Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, DuPont Powder Company, Eastman Kodak Company, General Electric Co., J. P. Morgan & Company, New York Stock Exchange, Pennsylvania Railroad, Radio Corporation of America, Standard Oil Company, United States Steel Corporation, Western Electric Company, Western Union Telegraph Company and the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company.

The selective draft of 1917 and 1918 revealed that almost half of the young men in America were either defective or unfit for fighting. Out of 2,750,000 young men examined, 46.8 per cent could not pass the physical test for front-line soldiers.

The youth of today, medical statistics show, is no better, physically than was his older brother in 1917, but the work of physical culture experts and doctors at the camps remedies these defects which are not organic. The camps form a vast, free public-health clinic at which these 50,000 youths are examined and treated by experts and given thirty days of health and muscle-building exercises, which last year added an average of six pounds in weight per man to every one of the 34,000 in attendance. Spine curvature, flat feet, malnutrition, faulty posture, flat chests—all of these defects disappeared in a majority of cases following thirty days in the open.

RADIO PROGRAM IS HEARD SIXTY FEET BEHIND SURFACE

Springfield, O., April 25.—A remarkable demonstration of radio reception took place during a heavy electrical storm recently when radio programs were received sixty feet underground. Virtually no static nor interference distressed the operators.

The demonstration was held in a large grotto of the Ohio Caverns, twenty miles north of here. A superheterodyne set was used with a loop aerial. Positively no connection was made with the surface. Radio waves were received through sixty feet of limestone roofing of the cave. The heavy rain and electrical storm on the surface had no effect upon reception underground.

Among stations received were the following: WEHH, WEAF, KDKA, WLW, WSAI, WQJ, WGY, WGR, and WJZ.

The set was operated by M. B. Geyer and Frank Grimes, Urbana radio dealers and the demonstration was witnessed by about a dozen persons.

This is believed to be the first demonstration of radio reception in a natural cavern, similar demonstrations having been made in mines and tunnels, but not in caves.

PASTOR TO REVIEW FOSDICK SERMON

A review of the farewell sermon delivered by Dr. Harry E. Fosdick, New York, who was the center of much religious controversy, will be given by the Rev. C. P. Proudfit, pastor of the Second U. P. Church, this city, Sunday morning.

Dr. Fosdick aroused several denominations through his writings and spoken utterances, and caused a division between the fundamentalists and modernists. He delivered his farewell sermon before sailing abroad, recently and it contains many interesting theological statements.

MISS MABEL CRANE GIVEN CABINET AS COOK SCHOOL ENDS

Miss Mabel Crane, West Market Street, was presented the handsome kitchen cabinet, donated by the A. Thornhill & Son Co., Xenia, at The Gazette and Republican Cooking School, Friday afternoon, the closing day of the successful school.

The donation of the kitchen cabinet was one of the several features that attracted hundreds of women to the school during the four days. Mrs. Mary Brown-Lewers, lecturer and demonstrator, proved popular with her audiences and her instructions in cookery were enthusiastically received.

Bags of groceries were given away during each day of the school and the following women were given bags

Friday: Miss Geneva Wartman, Wilberforce; Mrs. D. E. Turner, West Second Street; Mrs. Ralph Hughes, Yellow Springs; Mrs. James Delph, R. R. 10; Mrs. Susan Butler, Wilberforce; Mrs. Lawrence Wright, West Main Street. Cakes were given to Miss Louise Davis, West Market Street; Mrs. Walter Dean, West Market Street; Mrs. Sarah Murphy, Wilberforce; Miss Mary Ater, R. R. 10; Mrs. Pearl Thompson, Wilberforce; Mrs. John Korges, West Market Street; Mrs. C. L. Babb, South King Street, and Miss Anna McCormick, North Detroit Street, were given cans of Crisco.

LIFE PRISONER HAS MADE UNIQUE CLOCK FOR PENN. PRISON

Philadelphia, April 25.—Few outside the Eastern Penitentiary here know that the clock on the tower of that institution was modeled and built by a prisoner, a "lifer." His name is Jacob Pesendorfer, known in the prison as "Lifer Jake."

Pesendorfer has already spent twenty-four years behind the grim walls of the prison, and every day, hour, minute and second there has been one of remorse for his crime—he was sent there for murder. When "Jake" is gone he will leave a monument there which will remind the prisoners and officials of "Lifer Jake."

The man built the clock that is on the tower of the main building of the Eastern Penitentiary. It took him three years to complete the timepiece. Pesendorfer was a machinist before he was incarcerated in the penitentiary, and his clock is a remarkable piece of work.

HUGE CLOCK

He started to work on it in 1900, and in 1903 it was completed. The clock has two dials, one three and a half feet in diameter, the other three feet.

A bell strikes the hours, and the clock is illuminated at night. A 500-pound weight is used in striking the hours, and a 250 pound weight is used to run the clock. These weights are fastened to the ends of a cable, 160 feet in length, and they pass through the tower to the cellar of the main building.

The pendulum is made of wood and brass and is forty two inches long and weighs about twelve pounds.

The clock runs for a month with one winding.

MADE TOOLS

When "Jake" asked permission to build the clock he had no tools. So he made the tools out of old scrap around the prison yard. The biggest moment in "Lifer Jake's" life was when he assembled the parts of the clock and it ran for the first time.

Every night during the three years he worked on his timepiece he asked God's guidance and he said, "got it."

The main feature of this unique piece of work is that Pesendorfer made his tower clock differ from any other, according to clock makers; that is an attachment by which the time works and the striking works may be wound at the same time instead of separately.

FILM WILL BOOST OLD AGE PENSIONS

A three reel picture, entitled "Under the Eagles' Wing," obtained from organization headquarters, will be shown at the Bijou Theater May 7 and 8 at night, under the auspices of the Xenia Aerie Fraternal Order of Eagles, it was announced Saturday.

The picture depicts the disadvantages of infirmaries for the aged, and boosts old age pensions, it is said.

Members of the aerie had a meeting at the Eagles Hall Friday night for the nomination of officers for the coming year. The nominations will be kept secret until the annual election, it was announced.

Among stations received were the following: WEHH, WEAF, KDKA, WLW, WSAI, WQJ, WGY, WGR, and WJZ.

The set was operated by M. B. Geyer and Frank Grimes, Urbana radio dealers and the demonstration was witnessed by about a dozen persons.

This is believed to be the first demonstration of radio reception in a natural cavern, similar demonstrations having been made in mines and tunnels, but not in caves.

PASTOR TO REVIEW FOSDICK SERMON

A review of the farewell sermon delivered by Dr. Harry E. Fosdick, New York, who was the center of much religious controversy, will be given by the Rev. C. P. Proudfit, pastor of the Second U. P. Church, this city, Sunday morning.

Dr. Fosdick aroused several denominations through his writings and spoken utterances, and caused a division between the fundamentalists and modernists. He delivered his farewell sermon before sailing abroad, recently and it contains many interesting theological statements.

FARM TRANSFERS HANDLED BY T. C. LONG, REALTOR

Every Spring marks the change in ownership in Greene County farm land and this year has been an especially busy one for farmers who have decided to change locations, according to T. C. Long, local realtor.

The handling of farm real estate transactions take up a large part of Mr. Long's business. Mr. Long's method of a fair and square deal for both parties has insured his a large business.

Besides handling farm properties, Mr. Long has engineered the transfer of city business houses and all other types of real estate. He loans money to farmers of the county on good security and maintains a large loan and bond department.

Mr. Long holds offices in the Wilson Building, South Detroit Street. His business extends over Greene County and this section of the Miami Valley.

He has a wide acquaintance over the county and has a thorough knowledge of the real estate business, having engaged in this pursuit for a number of years.

BASEBALL FANS GET RETURNS AT HAYWARD'S STORE

Now that the baseball season is in full swing, the Hayward Cigar Store, East Main Street, is a popular mecca for men who wish to know the standing of their favorite team and players. A "ticker" is installed in the Hayward Store at the opening of each ball season and fans group around the machine until the last inning is played.

While the men group to hear how Donohue of the Reds is coming out, or Wingo of Detroit, the soft drink, sandwich and tobacco stands of the store are well patronized. Mr. Hayward offers his customers all the high class brands of tobacco, in addition to home-made sandwiches, pop and candy.

Groups of men meet in the shop during every day and evening of the year and the service and courtesy which is extended to all patrons, features the business.

A stand for daily newspapers is kept at the store, being one of the several agencies in the city handling a large number of popular sheets.

XENIA NATIONAL BANK WILL GIVE ADVICE ON BONDS

Did you know that all first three and one-half per cent United States Bonds are exempt as to both principal and interest from all Federal, State and local taxation, except estate and inheritance taxes? This with other facts, was recently brought out by John A. Nisbet, cashier of The Xenia National Bank.

According to Mr. Nisbet, all four per cent and four and one-fourth per cent Liberty Loan Bonds and the Treasury four per cent and four and one-fourth per cent bonds are exempt as to both principal and interest from all Federal, State and local taxation, except estate or inheritance taxes and graduated additional income taxes, commonly known as surtaxes and excess profits and war profits taxes now or hereafter imposed by the United States upon the income or profits of individuals, partnerships, associations or corporations.

All State, County or Municipal bonds issued prior to 1913 are exempt as to all taxes.

All stocks of Ohio corporations, both common or preferred are exempt as to the holder, the tax on same being paid by the corporations.

All railroad stocks of Ohio roads are exempt as to the holder of same.

The Xenia National Bank specializes in high grade bonds, but does not deal in stocks. Consult at this bank as to your investments.

FRESH MILK FOR BEVERAGE SOLD BY DAIRY PRODUCTS

What is more refreshing on a warm summer day than a glass of cool milk? The practice of drinking tea, coffee, cocoas and other hot drinks that stimulate the circulation during the winter months decreases with the approach of Spring and Summer and people find a fresh, cold glass of pure milk better for them. But milk is good for one, no matter in what month you drink it!

The Springfield Dairy Products Co. is looking for a greater sale of milk with the coming of warmer days and the fact that only the purest, fresh milk is sold by the company, insures the popularity of milk from the local plant, since stale milk will not keep in warm weather.

Not alone is sweet milk a beverage for Summer, but the cream and buttermilk sold by the Dairy Products Company are also delicious for refreshment.

Phone 39 and have milk delivered by the company, daily to your door. Drink milk every day and keep fit. It will combat all weakness. And with the increase of spring fever, don't you feel like you need something refreshing?

HUNT BROOM PLANT SECOND LARGEST IN STATE OF OHIO

From a small factory, but through the high class product put out and the code of service of the proprietor, The Hunt Broom Factory, Dayton Avenue, Xenia, has grown to be the second largest broom factory in the state of Ohio.

E. H. Hunt began the business in the building that formerly was used as the City Workhouse a few years ago. With a small force of workmen he began to manufacture brooms of the highest type only and the perfection of the product attracted the attention of business houses and jobbers over the country.

Brooms are shipped by the factory to St. Louis, Detroit, Cleveland, Indianapolis, Marion, Columbus and Cincinnati. The output of the factory last year was 17,000 dozen brooms. The outgoing stock this year has been steady and every effort is being made by Mr. Hunt to increase the sales. The largest number of the brooms is sold to jobbers, and grocers and other retail houses are learning the importance of handling only the best class of brooms.

Equipment for polishing the handles of the brooms manufactured at the Hunt plant is being installed. The automatic sander gives the broom a good finish and when the broom leaves the factory it is not scarred and marked.

FORECAST MADE OF CONSOLIDATIONS

Babson Park, Fla., April 25.—When discussing the present stock market situation Roger W. Babson, recently pointed out the probability of various industrial consolidations, and outlined the benefits expected from them.

Owing to the rapid rise in stock market prices since the election, and noting recent erratic conditions, many wonder if the market has not seen its highest prices," says the statistician. "The most experienced observers, however, do not believe the highest prices have yet been reached, and give for this reason the improved domestic situation, the plenitude of money for legitimate purposes, the restoration of Europe, and the conservative administration in Washington. All these favorable conditions exist yet there is another impending development which may even be a greater factor than any of these mentioned. I have in mind the probability of a number of consolidations among the industrials, as well as the railroads, during 1925.

DON'T SHOOT THE BIRDS

"Don't shoot the birds," the poets sing,
"Don't knock them from the boughs;
But let them in the bushes swing
To sing tunes for the cows.
Be nice to rooster and to hen
When they are in the trees;
Befriend the sparrow and the wren,
The owl and chickadees."

"Don't shoot the birds," the poets said—
I didn't use to do it.
But now they tear my garden bed
And I am driven to it.
I see no music in their tunes,
No beauty in their tints.
I feed them poisoned rice with prunes
And castor oil with mints.

"Don't shoot the birds,"—I never do—
I kill them with a stone.
I knock them down with some old shoe
So they'll leave me alone.
I never shoot a little thrush
When in my cherry crop.
His little head I gently crush
By swatting with a mop.

"Don't shoot the birds," I always try
To have a cat about
So when she finds one on my rye
She'll go and drive him out.
I feed my cat on doves and wrens
That on my cherries feed;
I feast on roosters and on hens
That eat my garden seed.

There was a man in our town
And he was wondrous wise,
He took the pies his wife baked
And gave them to the flies,
And now the flies are angels
And flying in the skies.

AUTO CLUB ISSUES
6,000 AUTO TAGS;
RECORDS FOR SALE

Approximately 6,000 passenger car auto license plates for 1925 have been issued by officials of the Greene County Auto Club to motorists to date.

A thick volume, containing both the name of the person to whom the license was issued, the make of car and the auto license number, has been prepared by the club and copies are being placed on sale to cover the expense of issuing the tags during the year.

Free copies have been presented to the sheriff's office and the Xenia Police Department, according to Diller Belden, secretary.

C. L. Fudge, R. F. D. 5, Jamestown, owning a Ford machine was the first non-member of the auto club to purchase a plate for 1925. He was given serial number 159,001.

MERCHANTS ALL SET
FOR ACES COMING TO
XENIA PARK SUNDAY

The Xenia Merchants baseball team will cross bats with the Ace of Diamonds nine, of Columbus Sunday afternoon at Dickinson Park in the first game of the season for the Merchants. The game is scheduled to begin at 2:30 o'clock.

The Merchants have little advance information regarding the team strength of their prospective opponents, but the Columbus team is said to be one of the fastest combinations in the middle section of the state.

The opening game with the Columbus outfit will furnish the management a line on the relative strength of its team this year besides allowing local fans to get a line on the team themselves.

Lewis star twirler of the Merchants last year, will probably again be seen on the hill in an effort to win what is believed to be one of the most important games of the season.

The Merchants team is composed of practically the same bunch of players that made a name for themselves in local baseball circles last year, disputing the city championship with the Xenia Reserves, and judging from appearances in practice have lost none of their speed or batting and field ability.

GERMAN WARSHIPS
BEING SALVAGED

Scapa Flow, Orkney Islands, April 25—Little by little the German wartime fleet is being raised from the mud of Scapa Flow, where it was sunk by German officers, after surrendering to the Allies.

Seven destroyers have already been salvaged, but there are still nineteen destroyers to be raised. One destroyer was found in such good condition that she was turned into a salvage vessel. Three other vessels were also found seaworthy and were towed by sea to Granton, where they were broken up.

It is expected that next year, the salvagers will tackle the huge task of raising the warships Hindenburg and Seydlitz. If these operations are successful, twenty other warships may be salvaged.

Diamond Bracelet Mystery

LIL MOFFETT, MISS LOUISE HASKELL'S GIFT BRACELET
When diamond and emerald bracelets, valued at $1,200 each, were delivered to Miss Louise Haskell, daughter of County Judge Reuben L. Haskell, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and her cousin, Miss Grace Haskell, daughter of Robert H. Haskell, attorney and prominent politician, there was no card to identify the donor. The judge called in the police, who discovered that the bracelets had been purchased by Harry Moffett, who had been a client of Mr. Haskell and a friend of Judge Haskell. Moffett, who recently inherited $10,000, evidently thought this was a good way of showing his friendship, but he blandly denied that he had ever seen the bracelets, or knew anything about sending them. Like wise, he refused to take them back.

GETS TWO DIVORCES IN JUST TWO YEARS

Rochester, N. H., April 25—Mrs. Edna Hard, twenty-four, was granted a divorce here—the second divorce she has obtained in less than two years.

She married Charles L. Allen on June 12, 1920. She secured a divorce from him in 1923, alleging he became too familiar with other women. Shortly after her divorce from Allen she married Forrest Hodgdon, a musician. Judge Young granted her a divorce from him on the grounds of cruelty.

STEAL SHERIFF'S CAR

Elyria, April 25—A new coach, owned by Sheriff Fred A. Underhill, was taken from the Lorain County garage, in the rear of the county jail, while many deputy sheriffs perambulated about the premises.

MICHAEL'S MARRIAGE

By MICHAEL

CHAPTER XXV
It was not long before Michael began to be conscious of a growing influence being wielded over him by Elaine Alloway. He saw her three or four or five times a week and, in a mental way, they became as intimate as brother and sister.

Elaine seemed to have accepted him as a devoted pal, one to be used or abused as she liked. When she happened to be in the Loop, she called him at the office and told him he might take her to lunch. They began to go to Washington park in the late afternoon to play tennis. Once she wrote him a note telling him she wanted to see such and such a show on such and such a night, and sent it to him special delivery at his hotel.

He was getting along with his work without embarrassment. He had found a treasure in John Treacy, to whom any problem could be safely left for solution. Treacy, a youngish old man who commuted every day from a three-acre chicken farm at Aurora, seemed to delight in doing the work of two or three men. To him Michael was giving wide latitude in the direction of affairs. So far the arrangement had worked creditably. Michael left without infinite detail to attend to, found himself acquiring a sort of enthusiasm for the job. Perhaps this enthusiasm was for the job. Perhaps this enthusiasm was only a reflection of his present satisfaction with himself.

He managed to buy himself a pair of knickers, some golf stockings, a pair of shoes and a sweater and meet Elaine at the appointed hour. He acquired a liking for her father as they worked around the course. Alloway never played golf with an intense devotion that bordered on the ludicrous. He inspected the putting greens, picking up a twig or a piece of dried grass here and there, as if he were a champion. Michael had never played more than a dozen games of golf in his life, and he found no difficulty in allowing Elaine's father to defeat him by five strokes.

"You're coming to dinner, of course," the elder man cried, jubilantly, as he danced under a shower. It was the first time he was cordial to Michael. "Never mind about dressing up. Wear your golf clothes; I'm going to wear mine."

"But Mrs. Alloway doesn't know."

"That's all right; Elaine will tell her."

Michael felt as if he had been jerked into the family. Did they suppose he was going to marry Elaine? His heart beat heavier.

"That was it. They misunderstood. They thought—He must think of some excuse to keep from going to dinner with them."

Results Like These

There is only one car that delivers Chrysler results and that car is the Chrysler Six itself. Consequently Chrysler popularity continues unabated. You are invited to study these results at first hand.

First you will observe that the tremendous power is vibrationless at all speeds. It represents step forward in motor smoothness and efficiency as important as the overlapping power stroke of the six in contrast to the old two-cylinder-opposed engine.

You will also experience new riding

qualities. A new type of spring mounting, with rear springs mounted close to the hubs and parallel to the wheels, makes it possible to drive the Chrysler around turns at 50 miles an hour. Side-sway and road-weaving are eliminated.

All these qualities, as well as many other features that distinguish the Chrysler Six from all other cars, are properly appreciated only when you ride in the car. For that reason we are always eager to demonstrate Chrysler results. A telephone call is all that is necessary.

OLD AIR SERVICE CONTROVERSY STILL SMOULDERS UNDER SURFACE

OFFICERS FORCED TO SELL INTERESTS IN OFFICIAL JOURNAL

New Organization Will
Publish Magazine It
Is Learned

Washington, April 25.—The air service controversy, which had congress excited some weeks ago, and which finally resulted in the demotion of Brig. Gen. William Mitchell is not yet ended.

The embers of controversy still smoulder, under the surface. Today it was learned that flying officers of both army and navy services who have been associated with the official air service journal, have been forced by their respective departments to sell their stock in the corporation publishing it, and sever all connection with it.

The action was taken, according to flying officers who would not allow their names to be used because of fear of disciplinary action, after the magazine, known as the United States air force magazine, had been muzzled during the recent upheaval. The magazine has been published by the army and navy air service association, composed of flying officers in both the army and navy, of which Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the air service is president.

It is asserted infantry, cavalry, artillery, quartermaster and other service branches, similar in character to the air service, organization, publish similar magazines. No action has been taken with regard to them.

During the air service controversy, it is alleged, the magazine was prohibited from publishing any articles or editorials which had any bearing on the subject in any manner whatever. Closely following the congressional investigation into the air service, Secretary of War Weeks is reported to have written a letter to General Patrick demanding that all army officers withdraw from the magazine. General Patrick immediately called a meeting which dissolved the publishing corporation and ended the magazine.

Secretary of the Navy Wilbur is reported to have joined in the action by demanding that all navy officers also withdraw.

Publication of the magazine is to be continued, however, by the United States air force association, as independent organization of flyers and former flyers headed by Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, the famous ace, which was formed during the United States Air force controversy. The new organization is a frank champion of Brig. Gen. Mitchell and his policies.

General Mitchell, who will be demoted to Colonel on Monday when he retires as assistant chief of air service, will be a frequent contributor to the magazine it is stated, and has promised that "there will be no more muzzling."

DONAHEY THIRD TERM BOOM IS LAUNCHED

Dover, O., April 25—Describing Governor Donahay as "the real champion" of the "dirt" farmer and of the toiling masses, fighting virtually alone as their champion in the state house against a hostile legislature, C. V. Truax, state director of agriculture, in a speech, launched a boom for a third gubernatorial term for his chief and predicted Donahay's election "as president in 1928."

"I don't know what Governor Donahay thinks about it, but the people of Ohio should draft him for a third term and then nothing in the world can keep him from the presidency in 1928," asserted Truax, addressing the Tuscarawas County Jefferson Club at New Philadelphia, the governor's home town, Friday night.

HAWAII CIRCLED IN MOCK WARFARE

Honolulu, April 25—The attacking blue fleet was believed to have completely surrounded the Hawaiian group of islands and actual contact between the "blue" and "black" forces of the U. S. fleet setting in motion the greatest naval maneuvers in America's history, was expected during the day.

Airplanes of the "black" forces are keeping constant vigil sweeping above the sea for miles around the islands.

"Most Beautiful Girl at Newcomb"

MISS ROSE ALMEE ROY

A charming manner and dignified poise are attributes which won for Miss Rose Almee Roy, senior in music at Newcomb College, New Orleans, the title of "Most Beautiful Girl in Newcomb," the women's department of Tulane University. It was a victory for long tresses over bobbed hair.

KING AND QUEEN BACK
London, April 25—King George and Queen Mary of England, arrived this afternoon from Paris after a vacation in the Riviera and a cruise in the Mediterranean. Crowds cheered their arrival.

Scotland Yard took special precautions against the possibility of communists in the crowds.

MURDER OR SUICIDE THEORIES PROBED WHEN BODY FOUND

Wealthy Farmer And Businessman Was Shot Through The Heart

Kenton, O., April 25—Theories of murder and suicide were advanced today when the body of T. C. G. McGuffey, wealthy farmer and businessman, was discovered near his home, at McGuffey, west of here.

McGuffey was shot through the heart. His own gun was lying across his body.

Coroner Hanson and Prosecutor, Leases are investigating.

McGuffey heard a noise in the barn near his home during the night, and, taking his gun, went to investigate. Persons who noted the position in which his gun rested on his body, voiced belief McGuffey was probably shot by marauders.

FLEET WILL SEARCH FOR LOST SAILORS

Cleveland, O., April 25—A fishing fleet will leave today from Port Stanley Ontario on a search for the bodies of the three men believed drowned when the Ada Maybelle a rum runner, went down early this week after a severe squall on Lake Erie. The wooden storm top of the launch was picked up by a fishing boat near Ft. Erie, Ontario.

The body of George Knaggs, one of the three Canadians on the launch, with a Cleveland bootlegger was found Wednesday.

ROOKIE JAWN

Olean, N. Y., April 25—"Rookie" John McGraw of Truxton, N. Y., reported for spring training to the management of the Olean Baseball club thirty-five years ago today.

FOURTEEN MINERS RESCUED SHORTLY BEFORE AIR BREAKS

Entrapped Men Are Brought To Surface Just Before Another Cave-in

Burke, Ind., April 25—The fourteen miners rescued late yesterday from the 2,000 foot level of the Hecla Mining Company mine, escaped death by only a few seconds, investigation by mine inspectors revealed today.

Just after the last of the entombed men were brought to the surface, there was a caving, and a break in the air line, meaning certain death in the mine.

All of the miners were rescued uninjured after 24 hours of furious fighting against fire and gas.

DAYLIGHT SAVING AFFECTS NEW YORK

New York, April 25—Daylight saving time will go into effect in New York City and in many other eastern cities at 2 o'clock tomorrow morning. At that hour all local clocks will set ahead one hour.

Railroads will continue to operate as in the past, on eastern standard time. Local commuters schedules will be changed to conform with daylight saving time.

Banks, business, and the stocks exchanges have made arrangements to meet the situation that will result from the pushing forward of the hands of the clock.

Daylight saving time will continue until the last Sunday in September.

CHILD CLIMBS ON HOT STOVE-BURNED

Attracted by the screams of her sixteen-months-old son, Russell, whom she had left in the house while she went to the barn to milk, Tuesday evening, Mrs. Estel Simmons, east of Wilmington, rushed to the house to find the kitchen filled with smoke and her child dancing on top of the hot kitchen range.

The baby's limbs were burned and blistered to the knees and his heavy soled shoes were curling to a crisp. It is believed the baby climbed from a chair to the stove in the short absence of his mother. The burns are not thought serious.

DON'T FORGET

Xenians hitting the hay Saturday night, no matter what hour, will do so with the not overly comforting thought that they will have exactly one hour less to sleep.

Daylight saving time, will be effective Sunday morning at 2 o'clock, by the terms of a city ordinance providing that clocks be shoved ahead one hour.

Xenia will operate on daylight saving time, which is one hour faster than Central Standard time, until September 27, when time pieces will again be turned back one hour.

The Pennsylvania Railroad will continue to operate on Central standard time, in accordance with orders from the Interstate Commerce Commission, but with slightly revised train schedules.

The Dayton, Springfield and Xenia Southern Railway Company traction lines will shift to the fast time.

BULGARIAN LIBRARY AND THEATRE BURNED DOWN BY COMMUNISTS

Arrest/Brother of General For Harboring One Conspirator

London, April 25—Communists have burned down the magnificent library and theater at Pleven, Bulgaria and a brother of General Georgieff has been arrested at Sofia for harboring Minkoff, reputed arch conspirator.

These were the developments today in the Bulgarian situation today to dispatches received in London.

It was during the funeral of General Georgieff that 150 persons were killed by a bomb explosion. Minkoff was shot to death by police and now again by a clearcut, decisive verdict in a court of justice.

Further American caches of insurgents have been uncovered in Sofia, Bragga and Varna according to Sofia.

The prosecutor at Sofia was said to have demanded a death penalty for the sexton of the church where the explosion occurred.

Charges of torture and massacre in Bulgaria were printed in London newspapers in statements by British parliament members Wedgewood and Malone. The London Times correspondent in a dispatch from Sofia as stated that the Wedgewood and Malone charges were unfounded. Only five hundred persons are under arrest in Sofia, the Times said he learned from official sources.

GRAPPLERS SET FOR SESSION SATURDAY NIGHT FOR EAGLES

Lee Umbles vs. Sailor Stanley. Gene Wead vs. Strangler Dixon. Speedy Crawford vs. Young Tex. Three bouts make up the wrestling program booked for Saturday night at Eagles' Hall, starting at 8:30 o'clock.

In the main event Lee Umbles, Cuban welterweight champion, will meet Sailor Jack Stanley, former welterweight champ of the Pacific Fleet. Both are championship contenders and fans will no doubt see some fast grappling. Umbles has shown here before when he beat Ralph Fulton in a match that was replete with thrills.

He was outweighed by thirty pounds but his speed and cleverness helped him to win. One of his pet grips is a hammerlock and Stanley will want to be on the lookout for this. It will take a real exhibition of mat strategy to subdue the Cuban. Stanley says he has trained hard for the encounter and is sure he can down Umbles. The match will go two out of three falls.

In the semi-final Gene Wead of this city will meet Strangler Dixon of Columbus in a match, one fall to a finish. This will be Wead's second out of town opponent and he intends to beat him. In his first match he met Jim Miller of Akron and lost but the Akronite had much more experience and was lots heavier and stronger than the local flash. Wead has been working out every night at Eagles hall with Umbles and Crawford so he is in fine shape and expects to score a win over the Columbus man.

Speedy Crawford of this city and Young Tex of Columbus will open the show with a one fall match. Young Tex has been going good around Columbus and it will take a good grappler to pin his shoulders to the mat. Crawford's last appearance at the Eagles was when he forced Kid Black of Springfield to give up after sixteen minutes of tussling. Crawford has been under the tutelage of Lee Umbles and has been taught lots of inside points about the mat game. As a whole the card looks up to be a good one and one worth seeing. The admission will be 75 cents.

ADDRESSES PUPILS ON WASHINGTON, D. C.

Mrs. J. P. White, Cedarville, gave an illustrated lecture in the chapel to the students of Cedarville College, Thursday morning, on the buildings of Washington, D. C.

Mrs. White said at the beginning of her lecture that the American was much like the Mohammedan in his desire to some time journey to Mecca, the American to the capitol, Washington. She described interesting Washington buildings and her talk was well received.

TWIN VILLAGES MAY ADOPT FAST TIME

Although no definite action has been taken by either the village council or Osborn or Fairfield, it is believed these two villages will start to operate on daylight saving time Sunday. Clocks will be set ahead one hour.

With Wilbur Wright Field, the two big cement plants and the I. C. E. traction line working on the new time after Sunday, business men of the villages find that a uniform time standard will avoid confusion, it is said.

BEAVER HIGH BEATS CEDARVILLE 24-13 IN BASEBALL GAME

Beavercreek and Cedarville High School staged what appeared to be a track meet at Cedarville Friday afternoon but what was in reality a baseball game, Beaver winning by a score of 24 to 13. The game was called in the seventh inning because of darkness.

Although Cedarville scored in every one of the seven innings while Beaver scored in but the first five frames, the latter team won by a score of seven to two.

Beaver players cracked out a total of twenty-six safe smashes, including two circuit swats and one three-bagger.

Numerous misplays in the field marred the work of both teams.

Mahan, shortstop for Beaver, was the batting star of the game making four hits in five trips to the plate. Coy, Beaver first baseman broke a finger in the game but cracked out a home run.

Cedarville used three pitchers in an effort to stop the Beaver sluggers. Mills and Townsley were hit hard but Baker managed to get by the last two innings without being scored upon.

Greer went the entire route for Beaver and although hit hard in every inning managed to keep the blows fairly well scattered and had only one bad inning.

Beaver jumped into the lead in the first by piling up seven runs and was never headed. Cedarville's best inning was the first frame when five runs trickled over the plate. The lineup and score by innings:

Beaver—Mahan ss; Cyphers c; Greer p; Tanner lr; Brill sb; Coy 1b; Goisier 2b; Hildebrandt cf; Matthews rf; Cedarville—Donohue 1b; Waddle rf; Mills lf; Peiffer cf; Townsley lf-p; Beekman ss; Collins 2b; Horney 3b; Marshal c; Beaver 7-4-4 500-24 Cedarville 5-1 2112-13

TAGGING ALL BASES

Genevieve held the Giants to five hits and the Braves beat the Giants, 8 to 1, ending the champion's winning streak of six straight.

A six run rally in the eighth enabled the Reds to nose out the Cardinals, 7 to 6. Cincinnati is now less than a game behind the Giants.

The Cubs gave the Pirates another show down the latter, winning by a score of seven to two. The slugging of Lefty Grimm, former Pirate accounted for most of the damage.

Brooklyn came to life and finally marred the work of both teams.

Mahan, shortstop for Beaver, was the batting star of the game making four hits in five trips to the plate. Coy, Beaver first baseman broke a finger in the game but cracked out a home run.

Cedarville used three pitchers in an effort to stop the Beaver sluggers. Mills and Townsley were hit hard but Baker managed to get by the last two innings without being scored upon.

Columbus, and Louis Charles and wife, Elizabeth, Hazelton, Pa., were arraigned in court. Police claimed the men, after parking their car here lifted overcoats from other parked machines. Duncan was fined $50 and costs for petit larceny. Charles was assessed $15 and costs for drunkenness and the women were fined $10 each on a similar charge. Their fines being paid, the women left for Columbus to raise sufficient money to release the men.

MRS. FRANK SHERMAN CALLED SUDDENLY

Mrs. Frank Sherman, formerly of Cedarville, O., died suddenly at her home near New Carlisle, Friday afternoon. Mrs. Sherman had been an invalid for several years.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Sherman is survived by a brother, Amos Mintle of Tarentum, Pa., and a stepdaughter, Mrs. Frank Wilke of this city.

Funeral services will be held at the home Sunday at 10 o'clock with burial in Clifton Cemetery. Short services will be held at the cemetery at 11:45 o'clock, fast time.

LOCAL AUTHOR IS CONTRIBUTOR TO BOOK

Miss Helen Santmyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Santmyer, this city, who is now studying at Oxford University, England, is one of the Ohio contributors to the "Semi-Centennial Book of Wellesley Verse" which is being published this month for the Alumnae Association by the Oxford University Press.

Miss Santmyer taught at Wellesley following her graduation and is also a former instructor at Central High School, this city. She has written a number of interesting poems.

Miss Josephine Simrall, dean of women at the University of Cincinnati contributes a poem originally published on the Buffalo Wellesley Club calendar to the Wellesley publication. Miss Eloise Robinson Muchmore, now in Fort Worth, Texas, but formerly of Cincinnati, is also a contributor. Mrs. Maurice R. Ridley, formerly of Cleveland, is now at Oxford, England, and is first American woman to receive the degree of B. Litt., which was awarded to her in 1922. Katharine Haynes Gatch, formerly of Milford, O., now an instructor of English at Vassar, is another contributor.

Edited by Dr. Martha Hale Shadforth of the Wellesley department of English Literature, the volume forms a record of Wellesley poetry during the first fifty years of the college. It is found such well known poets as Katherine Lee Bates, Josephine Preston Peabody, Sophie Jewett, Florence Wilkinson Evans, Jeanette Marks, Bernice Van Slyke and Bernice Leslie Kenyon.

Wellesley's first class, 1879, is represented by poems by Mary Russell Bartlett who, as an undergraduate was frequently called upon by Mr. Duran to write verses on special occasions. Wellesley's present undergraduate poets are also represented, for the collection contains verses by a member of the present Senior class. More than one hundred authors are represented, and there are two hundred poems in the book.

ANNIVERSARY OF LODGE CELEBRATED

The seventh anniversary of the organization of the Pythian Sisters was celebrated by members of the order and their families, numbering sixty-five, at a covered dish dinner and program at the Castle Hall, Friday evening.

The tables were arranged in the form of a square and were decked with bowls of violets and valley lilies. Candles in crystal holders alternated with the bouquets as a center decoration.

After the menu of delicious dishes, a program of talks and music was given. Mr. B. F. Thomas, president of the Greene County Past Chancery Association was the first on the program. Short talks were also given by A. J. Wilson, Mr. Jacob Wany, Mr. C. W. Whitmer, Mrs. Emma Zell, and Mr. J. J. Stout.

Miss Winifred Cross gave a violin solo and the other musical numbers included a piano solo by Miss Juanita Butz, a piano solo by Ivaldele Yeager and an interpretative dance by Miss Rosella Harner and a reading by Miss Evelyn Osman. The program was in charge of Mrs. B. F. Thomas.

TIME LIMIT NEARS FOR TAX RETURNS

Property owners in Xenia and Greene County are reminded by County Auditor R. O. Wead that there are only five more days during which to make personal property tax returns.

All returns must be either in the hands of assessors or in the mails by next Friday, May 1, it is warned. Failure to make the proper returns by that date will mean a loss of the $100 exemption given for promptness.

The various assessors report that returns are being made slowly, and it is asked that the blanks be made out as early as possible during the few remaining days to avoid the annual rush near the close.

Returns will be dated as of April 13, tax listing day, it is announced.

RESERVES IN PINK FOR TUSSLE SUNDAY WITH COLLEGIANS

The Reserves will go after their second win of the season Sunday afternoon at Washington Park when they meet the speedy Collegian nine of Medway. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock with Ferguson in charge.

The Medway team has played but one game to date that being with the Springfield Athletics last Sunday, but with Haddix, fast ball pitcher, on the mound they expect to beat the locals. The Collegians have a slugging nine and with them are Groth, Wiser, and Greene, three good clouters who may cause the locals no end of trouble.

The Reserves had two light workouts this week and are in excellent shape for Sunday's conflict. Fans have been kind of sweet on "Jap" Ritter, who at present is leading the team at bat with a .400 average. Fans are wondering how he will hit against Haddix. Cyphers, pitcher, is also hitting the horseshoe around the .333 mark. Willie McDonnell will no doubt start the game for the locals as he has pitched against the Collegians before and beat them.

Xenia Police Department announces that it has obtained orders from B. and O. railroad officials to keep everyone off the railroad. Any one found trespassing will be arrested they say. Following is the probable lineups of the teams:

Reserves—E. Leahy 2b; Fuller cf; Ritter ss; Randall 3b; F. Leahy rf; Toland lf; Cain 1b; Durnbaugh c; McDonnell or Cyphers p.

Medway—Greene ss; Maxton 3b; Groth cf; E. Greene 1b; Schaefer 2b; Wiser, rf; Teach lf; H. Greene c; Haddix p.

RELEASE JEFFRIES AFTER CONFESSION PROVES INNOCENCE

A charge of burglary and larceny against William Jeffries, of Cedarville, in connection with the recent robbery of the Ross Store Company, of Bowersville, has been dismissed by Prosecuting Attorney J. Carl Marshall who ordered him released from the County Jail Saturday.

The confession of Ursel White, 19, of Springfield, cleared up the mystery shrouding the baffling series of burglaries in the county, and was the principal factor in the dismissal of charges against Jeffries.

William Jeffries pleaded not guilty at his arraignment on the burglary and larceny charge and a preliminary hearing was to have been granted him Saturday.

William Jeffries was not implicated in the burglaries, according to White's confession, and there was no evidence to show that he had received part of the stolen goods.

PROTECTING THE EMPLOYEE

WHILE chanting the glories of Soviet Russia, the advocates of the rule of the proletariat might note that no country in the world does so much for the protection of its workers in industry as does America. The industrial conference board finds that sixteen percent more money per employee is spent for medical supervision than four years ago. Some 501 plants questioned by the board employ 265 full time physicians, 733 physicians on call; 845 nurses and 121 visiting nurses.

These figures do not wholly illuminate until the results are shown; not so much in the discovery of disease or defects but in the proper placement of employes who, in the absence of competent medical advice might be receiving much smaller wages or not working at all. Many complaints are quickly corrected thus insuring 100 percent efficiency on the part of the workers. These include, for example, defective teeth and tonsils, impaired vision and curable skin diseases. Where the ailment is more threatening, as in arrested tuberculosis, varicose veins, flat feet, high blood pressure, heart and kidney diseases, the employe if not cured is given the work he can do best without further injury to himself, thus protecting him from progressive deterioration while at the same time using him at maximum capacity in the job assigned. Indeed, the board suggests that in many instances the employee's well being is better protected in an up-to-date industrial plant than it would be at home or wherever he may spend his leisure time. The occasional smear of the worker at "welfare work" would appear to be misplaced.

America is the outstanding nation of the world in its opportunities for the worker; educational and living conditions and health promotion.

HONOR PERRY'S MEMORY

MORE than ten thousand persons turned out recently at Port-of-Spain in Trinidad to attend the dedication exercises of the memorial gate in honor of Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry, one of America's brilliant naval leaders and hero of the memorable battle of Lake Erie in 1813. The illustrious admiral died at Port-of-Spain on an American war ship in 1819 and was taken ashore for burial. The gateway dedicated stands at the entrance of the cemetery in which the body was buried until it was removed to the United States in 1826 and laid in its final resting place at Newport, R. I. The gateway is appropriately made of iron and on the supporting pillars are two bronze tablets. On one of the tablets are inscribed the famous last words of Commodore Perry:

"Few people have greater inducements to make them wish to live than I; but I am perfectly ready to go if it pleases the Almighty to take me; the debt of nature must be paid."

The other tablet bears the facts of Perry's death and burial and the circumstances of the presentation of the gate by Americans living in Trinidad. Secretary of the Navy Wilbur sent the U. S. Cruiser Memphis to take part in the exercises and the golden key to the gate was presented to the mayor of the city by Captain Lackey of the Memphis.

The tribute to Commodore Perry is a fitting one as Perry is one of the outstanding heroes of American naval history and the story of his life and accomplishments has served as an inspiration to many an American youth.

THE TEST

This is the test of a man, Does he stand to the blow? Is he willing to go Just as far as he can For the right, and not break When his honor's at stake?

He who has plenty can pay With a smile what he owes, But the true spirit glows In the spirit of him who will say: "No dollar is mine that I get While I stand 'neath a debt."

A pledged word is easy to keep When there's little to lose, But when you must stand up and choose Between hardships and sufferings deep And the soft way dishonor would take, It is then that your soul is at stake.

The test of the man is the blow, The storm and the tempest and strife, Not the soft, sunny days of his life, But the length he's willing to go, And the hardships he'll bear and go through Because it's the right thing to do.

and each tries to reach the vacant space in the ring left by the child who picked up the nut. If the Squirrel reaches it, then the other runner becomes Squirrel and must now drop the nut behind some other child in the ring. The game may be played indefinitely.

Making May Baskets. Each child is given a small, unadorned basket and told to decorate it from a pile of crepe paper (have one pair of scissors for each child); an assortment of cut flowers (or imitation flowers) should be at hand for the contestants to select from, when filling their baskets. The prettiest basket wins a prize. Five minutes is a fair time to allow for the work. These little baskets can then be used on the refreshment table as favors or decorations.

Hide the Bird: This game is a variation of the old-fashioned Hide the Thimble. A china or paper mache thimble is used instead of a thimble. It may be hidden in bushes, among flowers, or any place around the lawn or porch by the child who is "it," while the other children hide.

The beautiful thing about a May Party is that it may be given out of doors. All of the games may be played on the lawn, and the refreshments (the usual iced cocoa, simple white cake, jam sandwiches, and ice cream) may be served in the dining room—unless a table on the lawn is preferred. The games, of course, make the "party." Here are some excellent ones:

Chase the Squirrel is a good game to start it, as it is vigorous and "breaks the ice." All except one child stand in a ring with hands on one another's shoulders. The one outside this ring runs around the circle and suddenly drops a large walnut under one child. That child must break from the ring, pick up the nut, and run to the left, while the Squirrel (the child who dropped the nut) runs around the outside of the ring to the right. They pass each other on the opposite side of the ring, of course.

ROAD COMPLETED

Nelsonville, April 25—The Coolville road, the first all-year road leading from this part of Ohio into West Virginia, which has been under construction three years, will be completed within a month, engineers announced. This route has been used by thousands of motorists over a very muddy hill detour.

ON DARING

There is always some one walking ahead looking over the ground and planning something unusual and far reaching.

Call such a one pioneer-leader man of vision—the name doesn't matter. The marvelous thing is that such a man is able to get others, great masses, to follow him and do what he sees.

It is easy to do a difficult task so long as it is carefully planned out in the first place.

Most of us are good dreamers. But the daring man with the daring mind who goes ahead and writes his thoughts into realities, is really the great man in human life.

No matter where you look, you will see the result of some man's daring faith.

If you want to do an unusual thing, do something that you have never done before—something that you would like to do but have no idea how you can do it.

Daring men are those who take responsibility and then ride right along with it, without a word of complaint.

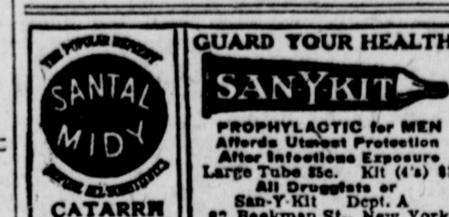

It's a good thing to decide to do

KEEPS HIS NEW AUTO FOR JUST ONE MILE

Boston, April 25—Thomas J. McCloskey, of No. 27 Levant Street, Dorchester, bought a new automobile and kept it for the short distance of one mile.

McCloskey secured the car from the automobile salesroom on Commonwealth Avenue. He drove to the junction of Jersey Street and Brookline Avenue, Back Bay. He stopped to go into a store.

When he came out his automobile was missing.

something that seems far beyond your ability or power to achieve.

Interest keeps us live and full of desire, and clothes our incentive as a mother might warm her baby with soft garments. Incentive is impossible without interest. And interest is what keeps us strong and unafraid.

Dare! You will surprise yourself. After all, this is what raises one man or woman above another—daring into new fields.

That Is What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did for Mrs. Jenkins

Middleport, Ohio.—"I am going through the Change of Life and I am taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for the troubles that come at that time. I got so run-down I could scarcely do my work and I keep a rooming house and have a family of eight to take care of. A friend told me about the Vegetable Compound and it has made a new woman of me. I keep it in the house all the time now and won't be without it. My weight got down to 90 pounds and now it is 132 1/2 pounds. I give the Vegetable Compound the praise and hope that women will realize the good in it"—Mrs. MYRA JENKINS, 593 North Front Street, Middleport, Ohio.

Over 200,000 women have so far replied to this question, "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

"Yes," and because the Vegetable Compound has been helping other women it should help you. For sale by druggists everywhere.

FIFTY THOUSAND BOYS WILL ATTEND U. S. SUMMER CAMPS

New York, April 25.—What the well-dressed young man will wear this summer:

Woolen olive drab shirt. Cotton or serge olive drab riding breeches. Wrapped woolen leggings. High tan laced shoes. Wide-brimmed olive drab hat, peaked.

Perhaps not every young man in the United States will be so clothed during the months of July and August but at least 50,000 youths between the ages of seventeen and thirty-one years will wear just that uniform for the thirty days while attending the forty-two Citizens' Military Training Camps to be held again this year under the auspices of the War Department.

Figures made public in Washington today showed that 25 per cent of more than 13,000 youths have already enrolled for the free health and citizenship encampments, more than double the number of enrolments at this time last year.

The enrollment campaign is under the direction of the Citizen's Military Training Camps officers at the Headquarters of the nine Corps Areas into which the nation is divided by the War Department for tactical and administrative purposes. In the Sixth Corps Area, including the States of Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin, already one-half of the quota of 5,600 has been obtained: 38 per cent have enrolled in the Fifth Corps Area comprising Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, and West Virginia, and 36 per cent in the Fourth Corps Area. Including all of the Southeastern States, less Virginia, EXPENSES PAID.

What President Coolidge himself and leaders in Congress and in civilian life consider one of the greatest movements for real Democracy ever instituted in America will get underway in many camps early in July, while other camps open August 1. Catsburg, New York, will have two camps in July and one in August.

The necessary expenses of the boy are paid in full by the Government from the time he leaves his home, with railroad fare to and from camp, clothing, equipment, food, lodging, bedding and entertainment.

According to reports made available at the War Department recently, enrollment for the 1925 camps has been made comparatively easy by a new factor. Already ninety-five of the biggest industries in the nation have guaranteed to send at least 2 per cent of their employees to the camps for thirty days on full pay, as rewards for faithful performance of their duties during the year.

SEND BOYS

Among them are the following American Telephone and Telegraph Company, American Railway Express Company, Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, DuPont Powder Company, Eastman Kodak Company, General Electric Co., J. P. Morgan & Company, New York Stock Exchange, Pennsylvania Railroad, Radio Corporation of America, Standard Oil Company, United States Steel Corporation, Western Electric Company, Western Union Telegraph Company and the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company.

The selective draft of 1917 and 1918 revealed that almost half of the young men in America were either defective or unfit for fighting. Out of 2,750,000 young men examined, 46.8 per cent could not pass the physical test for front-line soldiers.

The youth of today, medical statistics show, is no better, physically than was his older brother in 1917, but the work of physical culture experts and doctors at the camps remedies these defects which are not organic. The camps form a vast, free public-health clinic at which these 50,000 youths are examined and treated by experts and given thirty days of health and muscle-building exercises, which last year added an average of six pounds in weight per man to every one of the 34,000 in attendance. Spine curvature, flat feet, malnutrition, faulty posture, flat chests—all of these defects disappeared in a majority of cases following thirty days in the open.

RADIO PROGRAM IS HEARD SIXTY FEET BEHIND SURFACE

Springfield, O., April 25.—A remarkable demonstration of radio reception took place during a heavy electrical storm recently when radio programs were received sixty feet underground. Virtually no static nor interference distressed the operators.

The demonstration was held in a large grotto of the Ohio Caverns, twenty miles north of here. A super-heterodyne set was used with a loop aerial. Positively no connection was made with the surface. Radio waves were received through sixty feet of limestone roofing of the cave. The heavy rain and electrical storm on the surface had no effect upon reception underground.

Among stations received were the following: WEBH, WEAF, KDKA, WLW, WSAI, WQJ, WGY, WGR, and WJZ.

The set was operated by M. B. Geyer and Frank Grimes, Urbana radio dealers and the demonstration was witnessed by about a dozen persons.

This is believed to be the first demonstration of radio reception in a natural cavern, similar demonstrations having been made in mines and tunnels, but not in caves.

PASTOR TO REVIEW FOSDICK SERMON

A review of the farewell sermon delivered by Dr. Harry E. Fosdick, New York, who was the center of much religious controversy, will be given by the Rev. C. P. Proudfit, pastor of the Second U. P. Church, this city, Sunday morning.

Dr. Fosdick aroused several denominations through his writings and spoken utterances, and caused a division between the fundamentalists and modernists. He delivered his farewell sermon before sailing abroad, recently and it contains many interesting theological statements.

MISS MABEL CRANE GIVEN CABINET AS COOK SCHOOL ENDS

Miss Mabel Crane, West Market Street, was presented the handsome kitchen cabinet, donated by the A. Thornhill & Son Co., Xenia at The Gazette and Republican Cooking School Friday afternoon the closing day of the successful school.

The donation of the kitchen cabinet was one of the several features that attracted hundreds of women to the school during the four days. Mrs. Mary Brown-Lewers, lecturer and demonstrator, proved popular with her audiences and her instructions in cookery were enthusiastically received by Xenia women.

Bags of groceries were given away during each day of the school and the following women were given bags Friday: Miss Geneva Wartman, Wilberforce; Mrs. D. E. Turner, West Second Street; Mrs. Ralph Hughes, Yellow Springs; Mrs. James Delph, R. R. 10; Mrs. Susan Butler, Wilberforce; Mrs. Lawrence Wright, West Main Street. Cakes were given to Miss Louise Davis, West Market Street; Mrs. Walter Dean, West Market Street; Mrs. Sara Murphy, Wilberforce; Miss Mary Ater, R. R. 10; Mrs. Pearl Thompson, Wilberforce; Mrs. John Korges, West Market Street; Mrs. C. L. Babb, South King Street, and Miss Anna McCormick, North Detroit Street, were given cans of Crisco.

LIFE PRISONER HAS MADE UNIQUE CLOCK FOR PENN. PRISON

Philadelphia, April 25.—Few outside the Eastern Penitentiary here know that the clock on the tower of that institution was modeled and built by a prisoner, a "lifer." His name is Jacob Pesendorfer, known in the prison as "Lifer Jake."

Pesendorfer has already spent twenty-four years behind the grim walls of the prison, and every day, hour, minute and second there has been one of remorse for his crime—he was sent there for murder. When "Jake" is gone he will have left a monument there which will remind the prisoners and officials of "Lifer Jake."

The man built the clock that is on the tower of the main building of the Eastern Penitentiary. It took him three years to complete the timepiece. Pesendorfer was a machinist before he was incarcerated in the penitentiary, and his clock is a remarkable piece of work.

HUGE CLOCK

He started to work on it in 1900, and in 1903 it was completed. The clock has two dials, one three and a half feet in diameter, the other three feet.

A bell strikes the hours, and the clock is illuminated at night. A 500-pound weight is used in striking the hours, and a 250 pound weight is used to run the clock. These weights are fastened to the ends of a cable, 160 feet in length, and they pass through the tower to the cellar of the main building.

The pendulum is made of wood and brass and is forty two inches long and weighs about twelve pounds.

The clock runs for a month with one winding.

MADE TOOLS

When "Jake" asked permission to build the clock he had no tools. So he made the tools out of old scrap around the prison yard. The biggest moment in "Lifer Jake's" life was when he assembled the parts of the clock and it ran for the first time.

Every night during the three years he worked on his timepiece he asked God's guidance and he said he "got it."

The main feature of this unique piece of work is that Pesendorfer made his tower clock differ from any other, according to clock makers; that is an attachment by which the time works and the striking works may be wound at the same time instead of separately.

FILM WILL BOOST OLD AGE PENSIONS

A three reel picture, entitled "Under the Eagles' Wing," obtained from organization headquarters, will be shown at the Bijou Theater May 7 and 8 at night, under the auspices of the Xenia Aerie Fraternal Order of Eagles, it was announced Saturday.

The picture depicts the disadvantages of infirmaries for the aged, and boosts old age pensions, it is said.

Members of the aerie had a meeting at the Eagles Hall Friday night for the nomination of officers for the coming year. The nominations will be kept secret until the annual election, it was announced.

FARM TRANSFERS HANDLED BY T. C. LONG, REALTOR

Every Spring marks the change in ownership in Greene County farm land and this year has been an especially busy one for farmers who have decided to change locations, according to T. C. Long, local realtor.

The handling of farm real estate transactions take up a large part of Mr. Long's business. Mr. Long's method of a fair and square deal for both parties had insured his a large business.

Besides handling farm properties, Mr. Long has engineered the transfer of city business houses and all other types of real estate. He loans money to farmers of the county on good security and maintains a large loan and bond department.

Mr. Long holds offices in the Wilson Building, South Detroit Street. His business extends over Greene County and this section of the Miami Valley.

He has a wide acquaintance over the county and has a thorough knowledge of the real estate business, having engaged in this pursuit for a number of years.

BASEBALL FANS GET RETURNS AT HAYWARD'S STORE

Now that the baseball season is in full swing, the Hayward Cigar Store, East Main Street, is a popular mecca for men who wish to know the standing of their favorite team and players. A "ticker" is installed in the Hayward Store at the opening of each ball season and fans group around the machine until the last inning is played.

While the men group to hear how Donohue of the Reds is coming out, or Wingo of Detroit, the soft drink, sandwich and tobacco stands of the store are well patronized. Mr. Hayward offers his customers all the high class brands of tobacco, in addition to home-made sandwiches, pop and candy.

Groups of men meet in the shop during every day and evening of the year and the service and courtesy which is extended to all patrons, features the business.

A stand for daily newspapers is kept at the store, being one of the several agencies in the city handling a large number of popular sheets.

XENIA NATIONAL BANK WILL GIVE ADVICE ON BONDS

Did you know that all first three and one-half per cent United States Bonds are exempt as to both principal and interest from all Federal, State and local taxation, except estate and inheritance taxes? This with other facts, was recently brought out by John A. Nisbet, cashier of The Xenia National Bank.

According to Mr. Nisbet, all four per cent and four and one-fourth per cent Liberty Loan Bonds and the Treasury four per cent and four and one-fourth per cent bonds are exempt as to both principal and interest from all Federal, State and local taxation, except estate or inheritance taxes and graduated additional income taxes, commonly known as surtaxes and excess profits and war profits taxes now or hereafter imposed by the United States upon the income or profits of individuals, partnerships, associations or corporations.

All State, County or Municipal bonds issued prior to 1913 are exempt as to all taxes.

All stocks of Ohio corporations, both common or preferred are exempt as to the holder, the tax on same being paid by the corporations.

All railroad stocks of Ohio Roads are exempt as to the holder of same. The Xenia National Bank specializes in high grade bonds, but does not deal in stocks. Consult at this bank as to your investments.

ACCESSORIES OF HIGH GRADE ARE SOLD BY GARAGE

High-grade automobile accessories, including Exide Batteries, Gabriel Snubbers, Perfect Circle piston rings and springs for all makes of machines, are sold at the Swigart Brothers Garage, East Second Street.

The accessories, sold at the garage, in addition to the expert repair and general garage work, feature the good class of service, of Swigart Brothers. The accessories are used by the workmen of the firm in the garage work besides being kept in stock for sale to automobile owners.

The Swigart Garage is operated day and night and an expert force of mechanics is employed to give service to all makes of machines. The garage is operated by O. J. Swigart and L. E. Swigart. The Swigarts are expert mechanics as are the workmen they employ.

A gasoline and oil station is operated in connection with the garage. A service car is operated to answer calls over the county and city.

SEVERAL MODERN HOMES COMPLETED BY J. W. KENDRICK

Five attractive residences have been recently completed on North Galloway Street, by J. W. Kendrick, contractor and builder. The new structures are in the first group of several houses that will be constructed by Mr. Kendrick for immediate sale.

One of the first of the houses completed was opened for public inspection, April 12, and was visited by more than 100 Xenians. The house consists of six rooms, with breakfast alcove and bath. The rooms are finished with bog oak, giving a unique and novel touch to the handsome arrangement. Four of the other structures are of the square type and the fifth is an English model in green and white stucco.

Mr. Kendrick has had wide experience in the building field. His building program for Xenia will add many attractive homes to the residence section of the city.

The houses under his construction are open for inspection each day and anyone planning the purchase of a model, attractive home will find ideal types in those under Mr. Kendrick's supervision.

IMPORTANT PART OF DIET IS NOW AT NICHOLS MARKET

With the approach of Spring a large variety of vegetables and fruits has been placed in stock by Ed Nichols, East Main Street. From southern and western orchards the fruit supply is large the year round, and by the means of hothouse beds fresh green vegetables can be bought by Xenia housewives, through the Winter and early Spring.

In the vegetable kingdom the cereals form a very important part of our diet, by supplying chiefly the carbohydrates or heat-giving matter. Another nutritious group termed pulse, are those which have their seed enclosed in a pod. The most familiar are peas, beans and lentils; peas and beans are eaten in the green or unripe state as well as in the dried. Vegetables included in the pulse group are very nourishing, if they can be digested, they contain a large amount of flesh-forming matter, usually a fair amount of starch, but are deficient in fat.

The more succulent vegetables include tubers, as potatoes, artichokes, cabbages, parsnips and cauliflower. These are very valuable on account of the mineral matter, chief of which are the potash salts, so necessary to keep the blood in good condition.

FRESH MILK FOR BEVERAGE SOLD BY DAIRY PRODUCTS

What is more refreshing on a warm summer day than a glass of cool milk? The practice of drinking tea, coffee, cocoa and other hot drinks that stimulated the circulation during the winter months decreases with the approach of Spring and Summer and people find a fresh, cold glass of pure milk better for them. But milk is good for one, no matter in what month you drink it!

The Springfield Dairy Products Co. is looking for a greater sale of milk with the coming of warmer days and the fact that only the purest, freshest milk is sold by the company, insures the popularity of milk from the local plant, since stale milk will not keep in warm weather.

Not alone is sweet milk a beverage for Summer, but the cream and buttermilk sold by the Dairy Products Company are also delicious for refreshment.

Phone 39 and have milk delivered by the company, daily to your door. Drink milk every day and keep fit. It will combat all weakness. And with the increase of spring fever, don't you feel like you need something refreshing?

HUNT BROOM PLANT SECOND LARGEST IN STATE OF OHIO

From a small factory, but through the high class product put out and the code of service of the proprietor, The Hunt Broom Factory, Dayton Avenue, Xenia, has grown to be the second largest broom factory in the state of Ohio.

E. H. Hunt began the business in the building that formerly was used as the City Workhouse a few years ago. With a small force of workmen he began to manufacture brooms of the highest type only and the perfection of the product attracted the attention of business houses and jobbers over the country.

Brooms are shipped by the factory to St. Louis, Detroit, Cleveland, Indianapolis, Marion, Columbus and Cincinnati. The output of the factory last year was 17,000 dozen brooms. The outgoing stock this year has been steady and every effort is being made by Mr. Hunt to increase the sales. The largest number of the brooms is sold to jobbers, and grocers and other retail houses are learning the importance of handling only the best class of brooms.

Equipment for polishing the handles of the brooms manufactured at the Hunt plant is being installed. The automatic sander gives the handles a good finish and when the broom leaves the factory it is not scarred and marked.

FORECAST MADE OF CONSOLIDATIONS

Babson Park, Fla., April 25.—When discussing the present stock market situation Roger W. Babson, recently pointed out the probability of various industrial consolidations, and outlined the benefits expected from them.

Owing to the rapid rise in stock market prices since the election, and noting recent erratic conditions, many wonder if the market has not seen its highest prices," says the statistician. "The most experienced observers, however, do not believe the highest prices have yet been reached and give for this reasons the improved domestic situation, the plenitude of money for legitimate purposes, the restoration of Europe, and the conservative administration in Washington. All these favorable conditions exist, yet there is another impending development which may even be a greater factor than any of these mentioned. I have in mind the probability of a number of consolidations among the industrials, as well as the railroads, during 1925.

DON'T SHOOT THE BIRDS

"Don't shoot the birds," the poets sing,
"Don't knock them from the boughs;
But let them in the bushes swing
To sing tunes for the cows.
Be nice to rooster and to hen
When they are in the trees;
Befriend the sparrow and the wren,
The owl and chickadees."

"Don't shoot the birds," the poets said—
I didn't use to do it,
But now they tear my garden bed
And I am driven to it
I see no music in their tunes,
No beauty in their tints,
I feed them poisoned rice with prunes
And castor oil with mints.

"Don't shoot the birds," I never do—
I kill them with a stone,
I knock them down with some old shoe
So they'll leave me alone.
I never shoot a little thrush
When in my cherry crop,
His little head I gently crush
By swatting with a mop.

"Don't shoot the birds," I always try
To have a cat about
So when she finds one on my rye
She'll go and drive him out.
I feed my cat on doves and wrens
That on my cherries feed;
I feast on roosters and on hens
That eat my garden seed.

AUTO CLUB ISSUES
6,000 AUTO TAGS;
RECORDS FOR SALE

Approximately 6,000 passenger car auto license plates for 1925 have been issued by officials of the Greene County Auto Club to motorists to date.

A thick volume, containing both the name of the person to whom the license was issued, the make of car and the auto license number, has been prepared by the club and copies are being placed on sale to cover the expense of issuing the tags during the year.

Free copies have been presented to the sheriff's office and the Xenia Police Department, according to Dilver Belden, secretary.

C. I. Fudge, R. F. D. 5, Jamestown, owning a Ford machine was the first non-member of the auto club to purchase a plate for 1925. He was given serial number 159,001.

MERCHANTS ALL SET
FOR ACES COMING TO
XENIA PARK SUNDAY

The Xenia Merchants baseball team will cross bats with the Ace of Diamonds nine, of Columbus Sunday afternoon at Dickinson Park in the first game of the season for the Merchants. The game is scheduled to begin at 2:30 o'clock.

The Merchants have little advance information regarding the team strength of their prospective opponents, but the Columbus team is said to be one of the fastest combinations in the middle section of the state.

The opening game with the Columbus outfit will furnish the management a line on the relative strength of its team this year besides allowing local fans to get a line on the team themselves.

Lewis, star twirler of the Merchants last year, will probably again be seen on the hill in an effort to win what is believed to be one of the most important games of the season.

The Merchants team is composed of practically the same bunch of players that made a name for themselves in local baseball circles last year, disputing the city championship with the Xenia Reserves, and judging from appearances in practice have lost none of their speed or batting and field ability.

GERMAN WARSHIPS
BEING SALVAGED

Scapa Flow, Orkney Islands, April 25—Little by little the German wartime fleet is being raised from the mud of Scapa Flow, where it was sunk by German officers, after surrendering to the Allies.

Seven destroyers have already been salvaged, but there are still nineteen destroyers to be raised. One destroyer was found in such good condition that she was turned into a salvage vessel. Three other vessels were also found seaworthy and were towed by sea to Granton, where they were broken up.

It is expected that next year, the salvagers will tackle the huge task of raising the warships Hindenburg and Sevelditz. If these operations are successful, twenty other warships may be salvaged.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Diamond Bracelet Mystery

H. L. MOFFETT, MISS LOUISE HASKELL & GIFT BRACELET

When diamond and emerald bracelets, valued at $1,200 each, were delivered to Miss Louise Haskell, daughter of County Judge Reuben L. Haskell, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and her cousin, Miss Grace Haskell, daughter of Robert H. Haskell, attorney and prominent politician, there was no card to identify the donor. The judge called in the police, who discovered that the bracelets had been purchased by Harry Moffett, who had been a client of Mr. Haskell and a friend of Judge Haskell. Moffett, who recently inherited $10,000, evidently thought this was a good way of showing his friendship, but he blandly denied that he had ever seen the bracelets, or knew anything about sending them. Likewise, he refused to take them back.

Rochester, N. H., April 25—Mrs. Edna Hard, twenty-four, was granted a divorce here—the second divorce she has obtained in less than two years.

She married Charles L. Allen on June 12, 1920. She secured a divorce from him in 1923, alleging he became too familiar with other women. Shortly after her divorce from Allen she married Forrest Hodgdon, a musician. Judge Young granted her a divorce from him on the grounds of cruelty.

Elyria, April 25—A new coach, owned by Sheriff Fred A. Underhill, was taken from the Lorain County garage, in the rear of the county jail, while many deputy sheriffs perambulated about the premises.

Only One Car Delivers
Results Like These

There is only one car that delivers Chrysler results and that car is the Chrysler Six itself. Consequently Chrysler popularity continues unabated. You are invited to study these results at first hand.

First you will observe that the tremendous power is vibrationless at all speeds. It represents a step forward in motor smoothness and efficiency as important as the overlapping power stroke of the six in contrast to the old two-cylinder—opposed engine.

You will also experience new riding

qualities. A new type of spring mounting, with rear springs mounted close to the hubs and parallel to the wheels, makes it possible to drive the Chrysler around turns at 50 miles an hour. Side-sway and road-weaving are eliminated.

All these qualities, as well as many other features that distinguish the Chrysler Six from all other cars, are properly appreciated only when you ride in the car. For that reason we are always eager to demonstrate Chrysler results. A telephone call is all that is necessary.

MICHAEL'S MARRIAGE

By MICHAEL

CHAPTER XXV
It was not long before Michael began to be conscious of a growing influence being wielded over him by Elaine Alloway. He saw her three or four or five times a week and, in a mental way, they became as intimate as brother and sister. Elaine seemed to have accepted him as a devoted pal, one to be used or abused as she liked. When she happened to be in the Loop, she called him at the office and told him he might take her to lunch. They began to go to Washington park in the late afternoon to play tennis. Once she wrote him a note telling him she wanted to see such and such a show on such and such a night, and sent it to him special delivery at his hotel.

But, withal, she did not treat him as if she were conscious that he was, after all, a man, and she was, after all, a woman. It occurred to Michael, as he sat opposite her at College Inn at the luncheon hour that day, that Elaine was either an amazingly unsophisticated, or an extraordinarily sophisticated girl. The fact that she accepted him without question annoyed him.

"Has she heard that I am engaged to Lilah Pharley?" he wondered.

"You're going out to play golf with father this afternoon," she announced, poising a bit of buttered roll over her plate.

"But I haven't played."

"Oh, that's all right," she quickly interposed. "Father doesn't play very well. It'll delight him if he beats you."

"I haven't any golf clothes."

She affected a pretty pout. "I do believe you don't care to go even after I've promised father you would. . . . You can get all the golf clothes you need at Marshall Field's or Maurice Rothschild's, or some such place, in half an hour. Have you any other objections?"

"Are you going to play?"

"No. That doesn't give you an excuse on that score. I'm going to watch—and keep score."

Michael shrugged and smiled. "Well, since it's settled. What time and where, and how do I get there?"

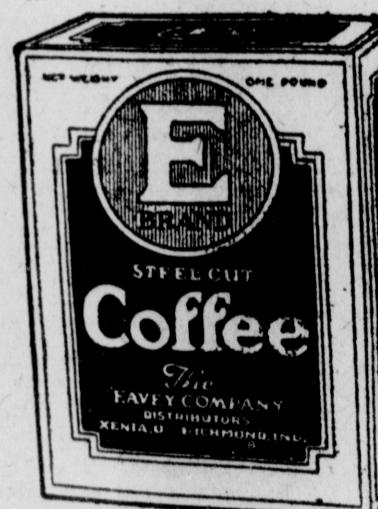

"I'm going to take you. If you leave the office at 3 o'clock, you'll find me driving around the block. We'll pick up Dad at the board of
